About Me

I take part in many arts such as music, drawing, sewing, and writing. I also like to study psychology to understand people more and discover their personality types. In school, I am currently in colorguard inside of Carson Senior Highschool. For personal hobbies, I play guitar, draw, and animate. My appearance is inconsistent as I go from simplistic clothing to heavy alternative styles like goth, but most of the time it would be simplistic.

Projects

- I made a piece of clothing featuring a depiction the human body.
- A large project I made was creating a accurate enneagram test which I also had help from others to confirm if it was true.
- Another project I have created was an artpiece that contained perspective and different lighting points.

Skills

- A skill I have is that I can adapt pretty easily
- Another skill I have is I can analyze people's instincts and personality type.
